NEW YORK and SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16, 2023 /PRNewswire/ -- Kiehl's, the finest apothecary skincare since 1851 rooted in nature, science and service, and Instacart, (NASDAQ: CART), the leading grocery technology company in North America, today announced a new exclusive partnership to launch same-day delivery from all 58 Kiehl's store locations across the U.S. via the Instacart App and website, following their successful Canadian launch earlier this year. This partnership expands Instacart's skincare and beauty offerings by giving customers access to Kiehl's full lineup of skin and hair care products, including their face moisturizers, serums, toners, shampoo and conditioner, and more for delivery in as fast as an hour.

"Kiehl's' launch on Instacart in Canada has been very well received by customers, and we're thrilled to now expand across the United States and make our scientifically advanced products available at in-store prices – just in time for the holiday season," said Kelly Johnson, Vice President of Retail Stores, Sales and Operations at Kiehl's. "Instacart is a key technology partner in enhancing our omnichannel strategy, providing customers easy ways to access their favorite products with helpful functions such as Instacart's auto-order feature, which makes it easy to schedule deliveries for frequently used products like shampoo and serums."

"We're excited to bring Kiehl's premium products directly to people's doorsteps, especially as many look to 'skip the ship' by sending gifts through Instacart this holiday season," said Blake Wallace, Senior Director of Retail Partnerships at Instacart. "Our partnership with Kiehl's makes it easy for customers to buy their favorite products for themselves or send them as gifts to loved ones nationwide."

Kiehl's products are offered on the Instacart App and website at in-store pricing, allowing customers to enjoy the same great prices and exceptional Kiehl's experience they have when shopping in-store.

Customers in the U.S. and Canada can order Kiehl's products for same-day delivery by visiting <https://www.instacart.com/store/kiehls/storefront> or selecting the Kiehl's storefront on the Instacart App. An Instacart shopper will pick and deliver the order within the customer's chosen delivery time frame – with delivery in as fast as an hour.
