

Cut+Dry and Instacart Announce New Partnership to Boost Ad Reach in Foodservice

January 6, 2025

New collaboration gives brands one of the largest advertising platforms for grocery and foodservice

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Cut+Dry, one of the leading e-commerce and advertising platforms for independent foodservice distributors and manufacturers, and Instacart (NASDAQ: CART), the leading grocery technology company in North America, today announced that Cut+Dry will integrate Instacart's Carrot Ads technology across its platform. Carrot Ads brings the best of Instacart advertising - products, technology, and expertise - to help platforms build or grow their own advertising businesses. The new partnership will provide advertisers in foodservice with direct access to reach buyers while unlocking new revenue opportunities for distributors and operators alike.

"Food manufacturers have long struggled to connect with end buyers and influence purchasing decisions at the point of sale," said Mani Kulasooriya, Co-Founder and CEO of Cut+Dry. "Without a platform to share their brand story and product benefits, brands have been limited in their reach. Meanwhile, foodservice distributors have been left out of the rapidly growing digital advertising space. By integrating Instacart's market-leading advertising capabilities with Cut+Dry's scale and influence in foodservice distribution and digital commerce, we're creating one of the largest digital advertising opportunities in the industry. This partnership empowers brands to connect directly with buyers and drive unmatched sales growth, all while unlocking new revenue streams for our trusted distributor partners."

"Our new collaboration with Cut+Dry and their adoption of Carrot Ads will supercharge their advertising efforts, unlocking tremendous opportunities for all the players across the foodservice industry," said Andrew Nodes, VP and GM, Instacart Business & Supply Chain. "Our partnership will not only open up new opportunities for our brand partners advertising on Instacart, but also deliver value to stakeholders across the foodservice industry, including operators, distributors, and food manufacturers. Operators will get access to detailed product information, recipes, and menu ideas to make informed choices. Distributors will have the opportunity to unlock additional revenue through digital advertising opportunities. Food manufacturers will gain unmatched reach to operators nationwide, boosting brand visibility and influence in foodservice sales."

Together, Instacart and Cut+Dry will expand opportunities for brands by opening up access to the multi-billion dollar foodservice industry. Brand partners will be able to reach a broader audience and tap into the expansive foodservice market, influencing purchase choices at critical decision points. The new partnership will help drive growth, boost case sales, and enable highly targeted advertising to operators in foodservice.

Instacart launched Carrot Ads technology with approximately 70 new partners in 2023, and today, nearly 220 retailer banners utilize Carrot Ads to power their retail media business and offer ads on their e-commerce site. Instacart Carrot Ads is leveraged by retail partners, such as Sprouts, to reach consumers. With the Cut + Dry collaboration Instacart will soon reach operators, distributors, and food manufacturers in the foodservice industry.

Instacart Carrot Ads capabilities on Cut+Dry will be available to brands over the next few quarters.
